

THE MEMPHIS DAH-Y APPEAL SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1860.

Local Matters.

Sunday Morning, February 12, 1860.

SIO ROBERT.

We will do our best to cover every detail of the appeal from the state of city authorities.

—John C. Smith.

The Rev. Dr. Quinton will speak at Grace church, corner of Main and Union streets, to-night, at half past seven o'clock.

REV. DR. YOUNG.—We had the pleasure yesterday of a visit from our friend Mr. John S. Smith, of the well known and popular firm of Berthold, Smith & Co., of St. Louis.

Rev. Dr. Young will preach in the new chapel on Fifth street, between Second and Third, on Saturday evening, at 8 p.m.—Admission, 50 cents.

RECEIVED.—There were thirteen documents before the Recorder yesterday, ten of whom were sent to the chancery court of fines.

RECEIVED.—Will he be divine service in this church on Monday evening at 6 o'clock. Seminary by the Rev. Dr. Quinton, in which the names will be read.

RECEIVED.—Taxes are sent up monthly and twenty-six persons in the prison. Of this number fifty-five are charged with felonies, fifty-two are attached to the chain-gang, and others are held on regular charges.

RECEIVED.—Miss Anna, James agent for the Commercial hotel, has our thanks for late news from the New York Hotel, Harvey Magazine, New York Ledger, Harper's Weekly, etc. Mr. James keeps a full assortment of these at his hotel.

RECEIVED.—We have often expressed our admiration of their pictures, that we refrain from making any particular notice of them, as we have done in our previous articles. Mr. Parker left New Orleans on Friday morning.

RECEIVED.—Clark & Remond's advertisement in our business column. We have so often expressed our admiration of their pictures, that we refrain from making any particular notice of them, as we have done in our previous articles.

RECEIVED.—There is something pleasing in a long established name of the season. Many a silly lover has found means to make his feelings known under the canopy of the stars, and to the world over.

RECEIVED.—Mr. H. Holt, the popular agent of the Cincinnati and Indianapolis railroad, is in the city.

RECEIVED.—Divine service to-day at 11 A.M. at the First Presbyterian Church, and at half past 7 P.M. Subject this evening: Words that Cannot Burn.

RECEIVED.—The receipts of cotton by the Mississippi and Ohio, and Illinois and Indiana, may be had at the office of Gentry & Co., a well selected class of Valencias, and three leaflets and gentlemen with a full check.

RECEIVED.—R. Hough, Esq., the experienced and popular superintendent of the Mississippi and Tennessee railroad, has written this city to-day for Busby and other eastern cities, on business, with a full check.

RECEIVED.—A. M. Morris, agent for a well selected class of Valencias, and three leaflets and gentlemen with a full check.

RECEIVED.—Everybody likes to be in good spirits, and they may obtain it by purchasing a Hecke & Co., who are specialists in the manufacture of whisky, brandy, and other spirits, and wines, etc., they are doing an increasing business by the superiority of their stock becomes known.

RECEIVED.—Scribner & Co., Mr. Smith of the firm of Carter & Co., has just returned from the business trip to New Orleans, and has brought back a full winter set, gathered from the most reliable sources.

RECEIVED.—This new year is less than two thousand less of tins for this market, largely supply, than we have ever bought in this city at any former period.

RECEIVED.—Annie, James, was charged with a murder, which was committed in the course of a robbery, and who was discharged from custody Friday, by order of the attorney general, was sent to the chain-gang yesterday until further orders.

RECEIVED.—We are indebted to Mr. E. S. Washburn, the popular news agent on the upper wharf, for late papers. All the popular light literature of the day may be found in his office.

RECEIVED.—The receipts of cotton by the Mississippi and Ohio, and Illinois and Indiana, may be had at the office of Gentry & Co., a well selected class of Valencias, and three leaflets and gentlemen with a full check.

RECEIVED.—Mr. Barry Sullivan, Jr., has furnished us that he has engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—The new year is less than two thousand less of tins for this market, largely supply, than we have ever bought in this city at any former period.

RECEIVED.—John B. Myers, who is in custody on the charge of causing the death of the late J. W. Webb, was brought before a board of magistrates for examination yesterday upon an application for bail. In the absence of the attorney general, the investigation was postponed until to-morrow.

RECEIVED.—As the grand jury of the criminal court will examine to-morrow, we presume the necessity for a preliminary examination will be averted.

RECEIVED.—John B. Myers, who is in custody on the charge of causing the death of the late J. W. Webb, was brought before a board of magistrates for examination yesterday upon an application for bail. In the absence of the attorney general, the investigation was postponed until to-morrow.

RECEIVED.—The Senate soon to be re-opened—Our friend Antonio Cardoso, better known as Toney, has purchased the dining saloon called the "Senate," and will open it a few days after the session begins. He is the best house of refreshment for his customers. He expects all his old friends to call upon him to see that his "spirit" has been purified and refined by the fire through which he has recently passed. Don't forget Toney.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—The new year is less than two thousand less of tins for this market, largely supply, than we have ever bought in this city at any former period.

RECEIVED.—John B. Myers, who is in custody on the charge of causing the death of the late J. W. Webb, was brought before a board of magistrates for examination yesterday upon an application for bail. In the absence of the attorney general, the investigation was postponed until to-morrow.

RECEIVED.—The Senate soon to be re-opened—Our friend Antonio Cardoso, better known as Toney, has purchased the dining saloon called the "Senate," and will open it a few days after the session begins. He is the best house of refreshment for his customers. He expects all his old friends to call upon him to see that his "spirit" has been purified and refined by the fire through which he has recently passed. Don't forget Toney.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—The Senate soon to be re-opened—Our friend Antonio Cardoso, better known as Toney, has purchased the dining saloon called the "Senate," and will open it a few days after the session begins. He is the best house of refreshment for his customers. He expects all his old friends to call upon him to see that his "spirit" has been purified and refined by the fire through which he has recently passed. Don't forget Toney.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—The Senate soon to be re-opened—Our friend Antonio Cardoso, better known as Toney, has purchased the dining saloon called the "Senate," and will open it a few days after the session begins. He is the best house of refreshment for his customers. He expects all his old friends to call upon him to see that his "spirit" has been purified and refined by the fire through which he has recently passed. Don't forget Toney.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—The Senate soon to be re-opened—Our friend Antonio Cardoso, better known as Toney, has purchased the dining saloon called the "Senate," and will open it a few days after the session begins. He is the best house of refreshment for his customers. He expects all his old friends to call upon him to see that his "spirit" has been purified and refined by the fire through which he has recently passed. Don't forget Toney.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—The Senate soon to be re-opened—Our friend Antonio Cardoso, better known as Toney, has purchased the dining saloon called the "Senate," and will open it a few days after the session begins. He is the best house of refreshment for his customers. He expects all his old friends to call upon him to see that his "spirit" has been purified and refined by the fire through which he has recently passed. Don't forget Toney.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W. Webb, who has been engaged in the new theater for his consecutive nights during the coming week, and that he will appear to-morrow evening in his greatest character of Richard III. The result of his performance will be published in the daily press.

RECEIVED.—John W.